Registration Help

What is Online Registry:

The AHA has an Online Registry available at no cost to pedigree and performance registry breeders. The program allows breeders to register cattle electronically. The Online Registry is really useful to performance breeders because it helps track their birth, weaning, yearling and ultrasound data. Among the many benefits, users receive a discount on their electronic registrations. Breeders can log in anytime and enter data at their leisure.

How to Enroll:

1. Go to www.hereford.org
2. Click the Forms Library button.

3. When the Forms Library opens click on Online Registry Sign-up Form.

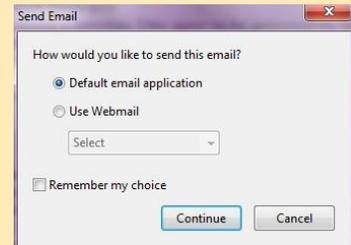

4. The sign-up form will open and you can complete the application by typing into the fields or print and fill out by hand.
5. You can submit the completed application by saving the PDF to your desktop and attaching it to an email, send to: Records@hereford.org or
You can follow the automated email prompts by clicking "Submit" the Hereford Cow.

The sign-up form can be submitted electronically using the Internet Explorer Browser.

1. When you click "Submit" the Hereford Cow button an email prompt message will appear.

2. Select the Default option if you have a default email setting on your computer.

Or

Select the Use Webmail option.

3. Gmail and Yahoo are setup automatically but if you use a different domain (aol, hotmail, etc) you will need to select Other.
4. The next window will ask you to fill out your Email, Password, IMAP and SMTP.

IMAP: mail.youremaildomain.com

SMTP: smtp.youremaildomain.com

The domain is the name of your email with the ending .com, .net, .org, etc.

5. The internet will open your email account for you and a new message with the form attached.
6. Make sure you click SEND!! If you do not press SEND the form will not be submitted to the AHA.
