BQA free certification period announced

The countdown has begun once again for beef and dairy producers to become Beef Quality Assurance (BQA) certified for free online through Nov. 13. As an added bonus, anyone who becomes certified during this period is eligible to win a prize package courtesy of Boehringer Ingelheim Vetmedica Inc. (BIVI) and the BQA program, funded in part by the beef checkoff.

BIVI will pick up the $25-$50 online training fee for every person completing BQA training through Nov. 13. Visit bqa.org to take advantage of the open-certification period.

The BQA program is important to the cattle industry because it is a producer's consumer-friendly story to tell, helping a producer talk about using BQA Protocols for producing a safe and high-quality beef product. The BQA training modules are customized to fit the specific needs of each segment of the cattle industry — cow-calf, stocker, feedyard and dairy operations. The program covers production practices such as proper handling and administration of animal health products, reducing injection site blemishes, and low stress cattle handling principles.

To become BQA certified or to learn more about the program visit bqa.org. To learn more about your beef checkoff investment, visit MyBeefCheckoff.com.
