Ogle Hired as Customer Service Representative

KANSAS CITY, Mo. – Tiffany Ogle joined the American Hereford Association (AHA) team as a customer service representative this week.

As a customer service representative, Ogle will play a vital role in the performance of the AHA team. Her position also serves as the customer liaison for resolving questions, interpreting discrepancies, conveying accurate information and promoting participation in association programs and services.

Ogle currently resides in Stewartsville, Mo. with her husband and two children. They raise club calves and American Paint Horse Association horses. They also enjoy showing pigs as a family throughout the year.

Ogle is a graduate of Fort Hays State University in Hays, Kan. where she received her degree in early childhood development.

“I am excited to be a part of this great organization,” Ogle says. “I am looking forward to the opportunity to work with the outstanding members and learn more about the Hereford breed from them.”

“We would like to welcome Tiffany to the records department,” says Tena Martin, AHA records supervisor. “She comes to us with a wealth of knowledge surrounding the livestock industry and has hit the ground running – she is an excellent addition to the Association.”

Ogle started her position with the AHA on August 27.
