The Yards and the Hill at the National Western Stock Show Jan. 15-18 in Denver were occupied by a high-quality set of Herefords from across the country. A total of 631 Herefords were exhibited throughout the four-day event. There were 269 head in the open show, 150 in the junior show, 37 pens of bulls, 27 heifer pens and two carloads.

Junior exhibitors kicked off the Hereford events Wednesday, Jan. 15, in Stadium Arena on the Hill with the junior show sorted by Graham Blagg, Spring Hill, Kan. Cody Lowderman, Macomb, Ill., evaluated the bull show along with Brent Lowderman, Macomb, Ill., as associate judge. The pen and carload show judges were Brent Meeks, Taylor, Neb.; Brent Mrnak, Bowman, N.D.; Troy Thomas, Harrold, S.D.

Cody Lowderman and associate judge Brent Lowderman returned to Stadium Arena Saturday, Jan. 18, to sort through the National Hereford Female Show.

“These breeders have worked so hard to make these cattle better, and it shows through here today,” Cody says. “They’ve worked diligently — obviously not only phenotypically, but from a numbers standpoint [with] EPDs — and [have put] that all together into a package deal. I think the Hereford breed has grown leaps and bounds.”
