

The Power of Technology

With the rate that technology advances these days, sometimes it's hard to keep up. Here are some helpful tips on the “ins” and “outs” of MyHerd, along with some helpful functions you might not know about.

Mobile MyHerd

Did you know MyHerd is mobile friendly? This means you can access MyHerd with your tablet or smartphone — not just from your computer. Simply go to your internet browser on your mobile device and navigate to the MyHerd login screen.

You'll notice when using a smartphone, this screen will look a little different than it does when logging in on a computer. This is because MyHerd is scalable, so it adjusts to the size of any screen. Instead of having the menu tabs listed along the top of the screen, you will see a menu box at the top, right-hand corner that you can click to see your menu options. While the layout may look a little different because of the size of the phone screens, you still have all the options available as when logging in with your computer (see picture).

Pulling reports, making payments

Another convenient MyHerd feature is the ability to search for animals, their expected progeny differences (EPDs), pedigrees, etc., and then create and save these searches and lists of animals. Breeders can search by trait or EPD range, specific registration number, location of the animal and a plethora of other options.

Keep in mind MyHerd also enables you to run your potential defects carrier report. To run this, hover over the “Jobs & Reports” menu tab, and then select “Submit A Job.” On the “Make a Report” screen, select “Potential Defect

MyHerd might look a little different on your smartphone, but you still have all the same features as you do when you log in with your computer.

Carrier” from the drop-down menu. The next screen allows you to run the report based on an inventory year, a calf crop year or a specific animal's ID. Once the report is completed, you can view it by going to the “View Reports & CSV's” option under the “Jobs & Reports” menu.

Of course, you can pay your American Hereford Association or Hereford Publications Inc. (HPI) invoice through MyHerd. Remember, if you are a MyHerd user, you will no longer receive packing slips or monthly statements in the mail. They will all be emailed once you are enrolled in MyHerd. This includes any work done by HPI as well.

To view or pay for your HPI bill, hover over the “Transactions” tab and select “Previous HPI

Transactions.” This will show you any packing slips created for HPI work done. You may click on any of those packing slips to see specifically what work was done, and you can also pay for your HPI bill on this page.
